

Enterprise week began on Friday 15th December 2017. Enterprise week is where children design, make and sell their product or activity. This enables the children to learn about profit/loss, design and persuasive language. The week culminated in the Christmas fair, where pupils from each class sold their products. Separate to the fair, the children presented their product in a Dragon's Den type activity. Each class had a budget of £20 to spend on resources and they were expected to make a profit.

The children really enjoyed the activities and these were the results:
